AURORA, ONTARIO – Attendees heard how 'Europeans and Indians were peers and co-equals, but then people forgot. History forgot.' Dave Patterson shares these fascinating true accounts because their invisibility in today's world is hurting everybody. Patterson delivers such a quantity of pre-contact accomplishments, innovations, and inventions that the listeners discover the Western Hemisphere inhabitants put the white man on the map.

"I found out more about these things in one hour than twelve full years of going to school", Marjorie Sewell of Newmarket said.

Because the education system has always concentrated on historical accomplishments of only the Eurasian land mass and ignores the Western Hemisphere, most North Americans are unaware of these contributions to today's civilisation, called 'gifts to the world' by 'the1492guy' – such as 75% of our foods today.

There are a lot of firsts, too: women's rights; freedom and liberty concepts; a 600 year old highway system with 225,000 km of stone/plaster roadway; democracy; suspension bridges; electricity; brain surgery; universal health care. There's many more.

Hilary Bartlett from Toronto Probus has called the collection "fascinating accounts that everyone needs to hear."

From Europeans who rarely ever bathed to a city with more people than Europe's most-populated, there's no shortage of fascinating accounts and many eye-openers for the average listener. Dave Patterson 'the1492guy' is spreading his ground-breaking and memorable messages around the GTA and across North America.
