

Interview Topics

Use these numbered points as 'Dialogue Openings'

Dave Patterson can be highlighted as an 'Intriguing Speaker and Author'

Dave is often characterized as a 'Flawed-History Rouser'

Dave's exciting and passionate point of view challenges us to consider, "What if Indians and Europeans were peers and co-equals, but then people forgot?"

Engaging in this exciting fast-paced conversation with Dave is sure to bring up many thoughts about this flawed history.

Here's some topics Dave loves to discuss:

1. The inspiration behind his studying and discovering the truths of 1492.
2. The one thing that changed in him after hearing Ray Fadden's message?
3. The passionate extraordinary way "500 Years of Lies: Discover the Extraordinary Number of Native Indian Gifts to the World" came about.
4. His unique title as "the1492guy."
5. The book's exceptional ideal audience.
6. His inspirational take on how the Westerners forgot and can the damage ever be repaired.
7. Plans for his book releases and launches.
8. The future and what's next after publishing "500 Years of Lies...?"
9. Purchasers of the book are looking for a deeper understanding to learn why Westerners react with guilt over what happened and see it can change, but hasn't yet. How can they help?
10. The flawed history and can it really change if people are taught the truth and decide to do something about it.
11. Find out more about his speaking and audience reactions